TERRIBLE STRUGGLE WITH A NAME.

"Foster and Choopenicker."

N. Y. World.

There is a good deal in a name, and especially in a name as long as Hick-enlooper. Hick-enlooper is the name of the Republican candidate for lieutenant governor of Ohio, who was nominated to prevent another man with a weird name—Mr. Seaseongood—from carrying off the honors. Hick-enlooper is not very widely known in Ohio or the west generally, and the news of his selection was rather a surprise and a trial to the editors of the country newspapers, who had to guess and gag at his name like chickens endeavoring to accomplish the deglutition of an oversized earthworm. One paper in Minnesota declares boldly that "Foster and Lop-penicker will sweep the state by 60,000," another in Illinois cries, "We personally favored Taft and Foster, but the old Western Reserve will come out solid for Foster and Pickle-choker; a third—and this in Ohio—says in all the majesty of great black letters, 'Foster and Choopenicker—beat them who can;'" a fourth, in Iowa, protests that "Foster and Peop-enhickle will awaken such enthusiasm as the Buckeye state has rarely re-sounded with," the headlines of a fifth in Wisconsin, are "Two glorious men—Foster and Pickenchooper—the nominees;" the sixth, and again in Ohio, declares that "the Democracy can find no ticket to successfully oppose Foster and Pickylooper; a seventh, also in Ohio, hoists along with an eagle and an American flag, "Our stalwart standard-bearers—Foster and Choopenicker;" an eighth, still in Ohio, announces a "mass meeting to ratify the nomination of Governor Foster and General Pooklenhicken;" and yet another, in Pennsylvania, where it fairly rains jawbreaking names, enthusiastically yells at the top of its type, "Tiger for Foster! Rah for Chicklepicken!" It is perhaps not a very important matter, still it would avoid confusion if the republican editors and orators would meet in convention and agree to shoot for the second man on their ticket under one name, whether it be Hick-enlooper, Loopinicker, Pickle-choker, Hoppenicker, Poopenickle, Pickenchooper, Pooplenicker or Chickie picken. General Hick-enlooper by any other name will be beaten just as easily, and it will be better for the family to have him dropped under an alias.

The Future of Texas.

[1. Bull, in the American Naturalist.]

If we cast a retrospective look over the whole, we may assert with all certainty that Texas is approaching a very promising future. It is a country in which, on account of its fine and favorable position, not only all the plants of the temperate zone flourish, but also many of those of the tropics. The wine culture, to which many a state owes its prosperity, is yet in the germ; but the results attained on a small scale hitherto, the great number of

as also the above described constitution of the soil,—are all speaking evidences of its adaption to this noble fruit. Texas has its own pine forests in the east, which will be fully adequate to supply the whole state with lumber, and to fence in the fields; and when once her own hand has wrought her own iron with her own coal, then will she not only supply her own wants, but many of those of the outer world. Nowhere are there which makes residence unhealthy; the country has also no sections which suffer from excessive drought. Winters have neither the northern cold, nor the summers the tropical heat; and pleasant breezes throughout the whole summer keep the air continually, not only in a refreshing condition, but contribute much to the salubrity of the country. Though we may not have to point out lofty, romantic mountains, still there are regions highly favored by nature, particularly those about San Antonio and New Braunfels, with their mighty springs, and their ever clear and refreshing water, that are especially noteworthy; which places, if they were lying on the sea, would justly be called the Texas Nice.

Nature says Edison was premature in announcing the solution of the indefinite sub-division of the electric light, and that he would have done well to have worked upon the experience of others rather than have learnt that experience himself by an immense expenditure of time and money. The electric light, theoretically and practically, is unquestionably more advanced in Europe than it is in America. But even here the progress in lamps is very slight.

The Central Pacific Railroad has just received a unique addition to its rolling stock in the shape of a hand car designed to accommodate but one person. It weighs but 100 pounds, and has three wheels. Most of its weight is upon one rail; the third wheel, attached to an outrigger, runs upon the other rail and steadies the car. It is propelled by hand and foot power, and will run 18 miles an hour.

How to Kill Moths.

A set of furniture that seemed to be alive with the larvae, from the month it came new, and from which hundreds of these pests had been picked and brushed, was set into a room by itself. Three gallons of benzine were purchased, at thirty cents a gallon, retail. Using a small watering pot, with a fine sprinker, the whole upholstery was saturated through and through with the benzine. Result: Every moth, larva and egg was killed. The benzine dried out in an hour, and its entire odor disappeared in three or four days. Not the slightest harm happened to the varnish, or wood, or fabrics, or hair stuffing. That was months ago, and not a sign of a moth has since appeared. The carpets were also well sprinkled all round the sides of the room with equally good effect. To have known thin two years ago would have been worth at least $50 in the saving to a single set of furniture, and would have saved many days of most annoying labor. For furs, flannels, indeed all woolen articles containing moths, benzine is most valuable. Put them in a box, sprinkle them with benzine, close the box tightly, and in a day or two the pests will be exterminated, and the benzine will evaporate on opening. Benzine in fluid or vapor form is very inflammable; therefore, when using it have no fire or light burning in the room—not even a match on the floor to be trod on. With this precaution it is safe. With the windows open its odor even will soon disappear.—American Agriculturist.

Talk is Cheap,

And so are fine clothing, boots, shoes and gentlemen's and boys' fine furnishing goods, if you go to the right place to get them. This is a mighty important point, for some people who assert that they sell cheap do nothing of the kind. We do not boast of our prices, and don't print foolish falsehoods in the vain hope of deceiving the public. We particularly call attention to our full stock of fancy underwear, such as is kept nowhere else in Reno. This class of goods comes from one of our specialties. WHAT VISITORS THINK OF RENO.

Reno is the subject of more newspaper mention just now than any other town in Nevada. The fire was a great advertisement for the place.

The enterprise of our citizens in rebuilding so promptly and so well has been a matter of much comment. The San Francisco Rural Press last week published a well-written letter, signed "S. V. B.", which speaks highly of the prospects of Reno. The following are brief extracts:

"Of all the present and prospective cities of Nevada, Reno bids fair to be the first. On the great railroad along which the interior trade of a continent must pass; bordering a river larger than the Merrimac, and more practicable for use as a water power than any other river in the United States; situated in a valley 14 miles in diameter, all of which is being brought into a state of the finest cultivation, and surrounded immediately by varied mountain scenery of the grandest description, with a climate invigorating and healthy for all classes of people, nothing can prevent its being chosen more and more as a city of permanent homes and a place for vast business and trade."

"It is certain another road will run to the north by the Peavine mines, through Long Valley, Honey Lake Valley, etc., connecting ultimately with the Oregon system of roads. Large enterprises for the complete irrigation of the whole valley have been entered upon, and are being perfected in a manner superior to any enterprise of the kind yet in operation on the western coast."

The Enterprise yesterday had an interesting letter from Reno signed "Occasional." The writer calls Reno "the garden city of Nevada," and says that it is "a thriving, growing town with a population fully up to the Nevada high-water mark for enterprise and business push and invincible persistence."

THE DEMOCRATS IN CONGRESS.

Washington advises of last Saturday that should Congress adjourn to-day the President would call it together again immediately. The press agents at Washington are undoubtedly the wisest men in the East.

Their mystical lore enables them to keep the people well informed in regard to what is going to happen. But now that the President has proved himself a vertebrate, one need not be a prophet to see that the Democrats will back down to the foot of the hill that they have already descended half way.

What big things the Dimmocrats were going to do in this extra session which they forced, and which the country has the pleasure to pay for! In the light of these latter days how ludicrous seems that precipitate journey of the Oregon Democratic Congressman to join the ranks of his party at Washington and aid in doing those big things! And Blackburn, hear the echoes of his voice from out the dim aisles of the past: listen to these words of his uttered in the time of a decisive victory:

"We do not intend to stop until we have stricken the last vestige of your war measures from the statute books."

This side of the chamber, which has demonstrated its power, never means to yield or surrender until this Congress shall have died by virtue of its limitation." [Applause on the Democratic side.]

The poor Democratic party in Congress has done worse than wrong: its blunders have made it ridiculous. The Democrats saw in Hayes a molly-coddle, and they have too late found him the same determined man who in the winter of '61, at the head of his regiment, led the way through the icy waters of the Gauley river against a storm of Confederate bullets.

PROTECTION OF THE PUBLIC RECORDS.

Humboldt county has wisely had its court-house provided with fire-proof and burglar-proof vaults. That county has got ahead of Washoe in the matter of protecting its records from fire.

The Silver State recently described the vaults of brick and iron which are in course of construction at Winnemucca court-house. Reno has had too much

As now kept, they are liable to be reduced to ashes in a single night, and thus the ownership of millions of dollars should be placed beyond the lars worth of property made insecure.

Every man who now owns anything in this country, every man who expects to acquire any property here in the future, is vitally interested in this matter. The destruction of the records of all the grants, mortgages, bonds, leases, and other important instruments made in this county, would entail upon our people endless litigation and open a wide road for fraud in future transactions. Such a calamity would have the effect of clouding the titles to much of the property owned in Washoe county. The economy that would risk these records to save a few hundred dollars is the penny-wise, pound-foolish description, and should be scouted by sensible men. We trust there will be no obstruction to the execution of the order given by the county commissioners for the construction of suitable fire-proof vaults in the court-house.

FLYING AT FRUDRY.

The Argonaut is now publishing a translation of Emile Zola's novel, "L'Assommoir," which has reached its fifth-fifth edition in France. Having seen the work denounced as a low French novel, we are moved to make some reference to it. L'Assommoir appears in the Argonaut in the pure and graceful English of its translator, highly respected notary of San Francisco, and James C. Ward could not be hired to translate an immoral or obscene work. The fault found with the story is that it is too realistic, exposes to much of the sin and suffering of the poor. It is realistic; it pictures life as it is among the wretched poor of Paris. But it paints vice to make it hideous, and describes starvation in all its horrors. Dickens offended in this kind when he wrote Oliver Twist. The dear prudish people whose legs are "limbs" are dreadfully shocked at truth. Some of these days we may expect to see a new purgated edition of the Bible, with all the ugly words and all the indelicate passages omitted.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Silver State has a correspondent in the Black Hills. We gather from his letter that Deadwood is now a paradise for dead beats. Deadwood it appears is now the scene of a mighty conflict between two "gigantic corporations," gigantic with a big, big G. These great, grasping and soulless corporations are the Homestake and the De Smet mining companies. Both seek to monopolize the water supply of Deadwood. The citizens are about to decide at the ballot box which of the two shall be the water god. Pending the vote, whiskey is the only drink. Free whiskey and unlimited brass band are lavishly dispensed. Votes $15 each.

Murat Halstead of the Cincinnati Commercial has announced that he doesn't want the Secretaryship of War, that he won't take it. Of course not. In these piping times of peace, what scope for the warlike qualities of an editor does that position offer? If an editor wants war he can make it hot in his paper any day. A man accustomed to the din of newspaper conflicts and the hiss of burning, fiery adjectives falling thick as hail around him, could never be contented as a mere tame Secretary of War.

Gao. C. Perkins, the Republican candidate for governor of California, mounted the stump at San Jose last Saturday, and made his initial speech of the present campaign. He denied that he was in collusion with the Central Pacific and asserted that the P. C. S. S. Co. is a business rival of the railroad.

The Argonaut contains an admirable sketch entitled "The Pocket Miner," written by Sam Davis of the Virginia Chronicle. It is one of the best character sketches ever written on this coast.

The Lassen Advocate is now fifteen years old. Its editor continues the same witty and graceful writer that he was when the Advocate and he were younger.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS.

Business will be suspended in San Francisco on July 4 and 5.

The Argonaut says that there is a great turn out of the young people to go to prayer meetings just now, but that all the meeting houses in the town could not hold half of them.

Last Friday afternoon a gravel train collided with the Alameda passenger train at the foot of Alice street, Oakland. Two of the passenger cars were thrown down an embankment. There were passengers on the train, but none were injured.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Mercury touched 95 at Elko Saturday. Grand Prize main shaft down 590 feet.

As ye sow so shall the grasshoppers reap.

Mercury at 82 in Carson at 9 p. m. Saturday. New stamp mill being erected in Tuscarora.

Thermometer marked 100 at Battle Mountain last Friday.

A splendid crop of hay will be cut in Independence Valley.

Carson now has a hack—a two-horse hack,—really, and a hack stand.

No cave dance in the Eureka Con on the Fourth. The Superintendent fears that the boulders might fall from overhead.

The vertical depth below the surface at the bottom of the Belcher Con is yesterday 2804 feet, 164 feet over half a mile.

In Paradise Valley the hoppers are ruining almost every field of wheat and barley, and are "raking the meadows, sweet with hay."

Thomas Devine was severely cut and bruised by the breaking of an axe of hand-car on which he was riding, near Osino, Saturday.

A printer's devil at Austin loosened the bung of a keg of beer so as to get a good drink. He was much struck with the strength of the brew.

The Independent says that Mrs. Murtha-Porteus, the singer, whose maiden name was Lizzie Murphy, was once the reigning belle of Elko.

A valiant young man of Eureka. Went after a moon-eyed lepah; But the heathen stood up And flicked the quarter pay."

That almost-eyed lepah of Eureka. A gold nugget weighing 24 ounces, and valued at $814, was found last week in Ososla, White Pine. In the same district one was found a year ago worth $4000.

The Appeal says that while a Carson lady was feeding a tramp last Friday, he made an indecent assault upon her, but she drove him off, and he escaped. No names mentioned.

Bat shooting at Virginia last Friday. Two hundred bats were brought up from Sacramento. They are harder to hit than pigeons, and the "sport" is quite as humane as pigeon shooting.

"Under the Gaslight" was performed with great success at Carson last Friday evening by the "Carson Dramatic Club." The scenery was painted by T. F. Laycock, of Reno, and was much admired.
